QUESTION 3

Joe is managing the IBM Web Content Manager server for ABC Corp. The IBM WebSphere Portal is secured by an LDAP server. Due to a performance issue, he is asked to reconfigure security to a new LDAP server that contains similar groups and users. There are multiple Web Content Manager libraries with contents. Some of the users who used to have access to edit content are not able to access the content due to references to members in library items which contain the distinguished name of the member as well as a uniqueID for the member. This unique ID is an internal ID that is unique over time, and is different from the distinguished name. Since Web Content Manager is configured to a new LDAP, with the same distinguished name, the two members will have different uniqueIDs.

What should Joe do to resolve the issue?

- A. The member fixer task with mismatchedId parameter can be used to update or remove references from Web Content Manager items to users with these unique IDs.
- B. The member fixer task with uniqueId parameter can be used to update or remove references from Web Content Manager items to users with these unique IDs.
- C. The member fixer task with internalId parameter can be used to update or remove references from Web Content Manager items to users with these uniqueIDs.
- D. The member fixer task with invalidId parameter can be used to update or remove references from Web Content Manager items to users with these unique IDs.

QUESTION 5

Sam is a content developer responsible for building the company's new public website. When content is published to the site, it should be available to any site visitors regardless of whether they have authenticated to the site. Assuming the library is already properly secured, the easiest way to do this task is:

- A. Give Live access to [all users] for each content item.
- B. Give Live access to [everyone] for each content item.
- C. Give Read access to [all users] for each content item.
- D. Give Read access to [everyone] for each content item.
