QUESTION 3

LLC stands for "Limited Liability Corporation," meaning the business owners' liability is limited. Without the idea of "limited liability," the owners of a business can be held personally responsible for the debts of their business. The idea of "limited liability" originated in Germany in the late 19th century. By the 1940s, the idea had taken hold in 17 countries, but not the United States. In 1977, Wyoming became the first U.S. state to pass an LLC law modeled after the German statute. Many other states eventually passed their own version, though most of them have variations from other states.

Why is the idea of limited liability helpful to business owners?

- A. Because it can limit their personal financial risk.
- B. Because it is a tradition dating back to the 19th century.
- C. Because it is now legal in all 50 states.
- D. Because it holds them personally responsible for their business' debts.

Correct Answer: A

Explanation: The idea of a limited liability company or LLC is helpful to business owners because it can limit the financial risk to them personally, rather than making business owners personally responsible for the debts of their business. This idea is expressed in the first two sentences of the passage; it is left for the reader to understand that decreased personal financial risk is better, but that's a conclusion most people would easily reach on their own.
